

Your fire stations: OPEN TODAY

Today this fire station is open. Tomorrow it could be shut. Somewhere in NSW, every day and every night, fire stations are being closed.

The O'Farrell Government is cutting our budget and closing our fire stations. Over the next three years these budget cuts are set to increase by 300%. That means even more fire station closures, and fewer firefighters.

Why does this matter?

If this fire station is shut then other firefighters will have to travel from other fire stations further away, leaving you and your family to wait longer for help when you need it.

In any emergency seconds count. A minute's delay can cost a house – or a life.

Please tell your local Member of Parliament and Councillors know that your safety is not negotiable, and that your fire station must remain open.
