Dear Comrade,

I am writing to you because the NSW Electoral Commission has advised us that you are presently a candidate for the current Union elections. Please disregard this notice if you have since withdrawn your nomination.

The Union's editorial policy provides that "the new FBEU website will ... include a candidates' information area to which candidates will be invited to submit a written profile (and photograph, should they so choose) in support of their candidacy and which will begin operating upon the closure of nominations and conclude operating upon the closure of the ballot."

You are therefore invited to submit up to 200 words in support of your candidature for inclusion within the candidates' information area on the Union's website. Please note that any text in excess of this 200 word limit will be omitted. You may also forward a photograph (the cost and quality of which will remain your responsibility) for insertion at the head of your profile.

Candidates who do not wish to participate do not need to do anything. All those who do should forward their material as soon as possible to the Union's Senior Administrative Officer, Alison Ornbø by fax, post or email at the addresses/numbers shown below. Please do not hesitate to contact Alison or myself should you have any queries regarding this process.

Yours fraternally,

Leighton Drury
State Secretary
