

AMBULANCE ASSISTANCE CODE RED - UPDATE

Further to SitRep 26 and SitRep 27, the FBEU and the Department have had further discussions regarding attendance at Ambulance Assist incidents by FBEU members.

We continue to have serious concerns about the lack of clear parameters for this work, along with ensuring members are appropriately trained and resourced if such work is to occur.

We have also raised with the Department our expectation that any Ambulance Assist work (however defined) does not impact our core service delivery and safe systems of work, including minimum staffing numbers and 8 on the fireground.

The Department has committed to meet their responsibilities to develop a clear Service Level Agreement with NSW Ambulance as a matter of urgency (within the next fortnight) and will continue to consult with the FBEU as this progresses.

Based on this commitment, members are advised that the Code Red on Ambulance Assist calls remains suspended until 10 September. A further update will be provided on this date.

In the meantime, as always, any issues or concerns should continue to be reported through to the office or to your SCOM representative for advice/assistance.

PROPOSED RULE CHANGE - ELECTRONIC VOTING FOR PLEBISCITES

At last week's State Committee of Management meeting, in accordance with Rule 47, a proposed rule change was endorsed by your SCOM. This rule change continues our ongoing efforts to modernise the FBEU Rules.

This rule change will allow us to use electronic voting methods when the Union is conducting a plebiscite, like the one upcoming on the additional rule changes.

Currently, our Rules require a postal ballot when conducting a plebiscite. Postal ballots, however, are now not only expensive, but take significant time and resources.

This proposed rule change will modernise our voting methods for plebiscites and will be cheaper and quicker.

The ease of electronic voting will hopefully also increase member turnout in these votes, ensuring our democratic processes reflect the views of as many members as possible, while maintaining integrity and security of our voting systems.

To be clear, this rule change will not impact elections of SCOM officials. These elections will continue in accordance with the current Rules and will be conducted by the NSW Electoral Commission.

This rule change allows for electronic voting in the case of Union plebiscites only.

You can view a full copy of our current rules by clicking here.

State Committee will be meeting on 29 September to adopt this rule change.

We ask all Delegates to please print and place this notice on the noticeboard in your workplace. Any questions regarding this proposal can be directed to your SCOM rep or the FBEU Office.

You can find a copy of the proposed rule change below. Note that text in red is new or changed.
