The NSW Electoral Commission relies on the Union's membership records, not on your electoral records. You can't vote if you don't receive a ballot paper and you won't receive a ballot paper from the NSW Electoral Commission if the Union does not have your current address.

Members who have changed address but have not yet let the Union know, or who simply aren't sure, should complete a change of address form or contact the Union office at office@fbeu.net so we can check and, if necessary, update your records to ensure that you receive your voting material.

The Electoral Commission's nomination forms will be included with SitRep on Friday when nominations open.

In Unity,

Martin Dixon
Acting State Secretary
